RENO TEEN AWARDED $10,000 SCHOLARSHIP FOR UNMATCHED ACHIEVEMENT IN MATHEMATICS RESEARCH

Jason Liu to be Named a 2020 Davidson Fellow Scholarship Winner

Reno, Nev. – The Davidson Fellows Scholarship Program has announced the 2020 scholarship winners. Among the honorees is 17-year-old Jason Liu of Reno. Liu won a $10,000 scholarship for his project, Quantum Integer-Valued Polynomials. He is one of only 20 students across the country to be recognized as a scholarship winner.

“I am incredibly honored to be named a Davidson Fellow and to join the ranks of many amazing Fellows before me,” said Liu.

Liu’s project explored a relatively new field of mathematics, Quantum Integer-Valued Polynomials, which studies the properties of various mathematical objects (such as integer, factorials, and polynomials) after an extra variable q is introduced to them. Liu’s project provides a characterization of certain types of Quantum Integer-Valued Polynomials, giving mathematicians a starting point for further research.

Liu will be attending the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in the fall where he plans to study mathematics, computer science, and physics.

“We are proud to announce the 2020 Davidson Fellows Scholarship recipients and applaud them for their hard work and achievement in their fields of study,” said Bob Davidson, founder of the Davidson Institute. “By being awarded this recognition, these students have shown immense skill and work ethic, and they should be commended as they continue their educational and research journeys while continuing to work to solve some of the world’s most vexing problems.”

The 2020 Davidson Fellows will be honored during a digital reception on September 30, 2020.

The Davidson Fellows Scholarship program offers $50,000, $25,000 and $10,000 college scholarships to students 18 or younger, who have completed significant projects that have the potential to benefit society in the fields of science, technology, engineering, mathematics, literature and music. The Davidson Fellows Scholarship has provided more than $8.2 million in scholarship funds to 366 students since its inception in 2001, and has been named one of the most prestigious undergraduate scholarships by U.S. News & World Report. It is a program of the Davidson Institute for Talent Development, a national nonprofit organization headquartered in Reno, Nev. that supports profoundly gifted youth.
